Spirituality and Purpose

Why is spirituality and purpose important?

Martha has been struggling with her spirituality lately. To strengthen her connection to her purpose and values that give meaning to her life, Martha has been attending church and praying. She stays connected to nature by taking daily walks and collecting medicinal plants. She also stays connected with her community by going to lunch with her friends at the Elder Program, which gives her a sense of belonging. One of Martha's friends suggested she connect with Traditional Healing, which has since helped her plan holistic wellness goals. All these steps have helped Martha feel whole again.

Spirituality is important to everyone as it provides a purpose to live a holistic life, and is central to who we are and how we identify culturally.

What are some considerations for spirituality and purpose?

- Loss of abilities
- Loss of sense of belonging
- Grief
- End of life concerns
- Spirituality is a part of who we are and expressed into every thought, feeling, and action.

Purpose often involves connection to people, nature, and our spiritual life.

Questions to ask yourself:

- Am I living a life I am happy with?
- What does spirituality mean to me?
- What is the meaning of life to me now?
- What gives my life meaning?
- What are my spiritual goals?
- Am I open to change?
